

Archery World Cup
Public 'Come & Try' Event
September 18th & 19th 2010 – Edinburgh

Scottish Archery is delighted to advise that as part of the overall Archery World Cup Final Event in Edinburgh in September, we will be hosting a Public 'Come & Try' event in the wonderful surroundings of Princes Street Gardens right in the heart of the capital!

Affiliated Clubs of Scottish Archery are being offered the fantastic opportunity to fully participate in this exciting event by applying to run one of the Public Come & Try Sessions that will be held throughout Saturday 18th and Sunday 19th September.

This is a great chance to not only showcase archery in Scotland and to raise the profile of your Club, but there is also the opportunity to generate income for your Club.

Full details of the Come & Try event, and how to apply to run one of the sessions is contained in the attached documents [in the Members Only section of the website]

You should be aware, however, that should you and your Club volunteer to run one of the Come & Try sessions, this will preclude these individuals from becoming a volunteer for the World Cup event itself (as noted on the Scottish Archery website over the past few months) as the Come & Try event will be running simultaneously to the World Cup event.
